Course Overview

Aims

Overall the course aims to:

1. promote a range of qualities in students including intellectual independence and critical engagement with evidence-based practice;
2. provide students with a broad and balanced knowledge and understanding of the principle features of learning and teaching in the school;
3. enable students to be able to deliver a progressive and varied curriculum to meet the needs of all children irrespective of their varied backgrounds and individual needs;
4. engage students in learning to apply a variety of theoretical and experiential perspectives that reflect the behaviour, development and needs of children and teachers as individuals and members of groups; and
5. give students the opportunity to build a personal and professional commitment to teaching based on an appreciation of the importance of continuing professional development as a reflective practitioner and teacher scholar.

Course Learning Outcomes

Teaching and Learning Activities

Summary

All modules foster a student-centred learning approach and the continued development of self-directed learning in support of independent and reflective learners. Learning and teaching methods reflect the particular characteristics of each module combining in-depth theoretical and practical approaches that in turn integrate with the experience in schools and with children, and prior knowledge from their degree or professional experience.
Students are expected to reflect upon the application of theory to their practice throughout the programme, and to engage with academic theory from practitioner and academic journals throughout the programme. These are assessed through the academic submissions at level 7.

Learning and Teaching Activities

The course has been designed in accordance with the University Learning and Teaching strategy and tailored specifically for online, independent learning.

Self-directed learning: Students following the course will be led through a series of interactive online tasks intended to develop and challenge their thinking. The online texts that make up the course materials contain regular self-review questions. These texts are designed to build towards the assessment activity for each module which will be built around an investigation of their practice.

Tutor-mediated learning: Students will be required and encouraged to make regular contact with their tutor who will help shape, direct and enhance their learning.

Interactive group learning: students will be required and encouraged to make contact with their peers on the course through interactive online discussions learning from others in the group as well as developing and challenging identities and structures in their own settings.

Your Modules

This information is correct for students progressing through the programme within standard timescales. Students who are required to undertake repeat study may be taught alternate modules which meet the overall course learning outcomes. Details of module delivery will be provided in your timetable.

There is no specific semester in which these modules must be studied. For example, it is intended that the order of presentation of the modules will be a matter of negotiation between Leeds Beckett and partner providers of QTS (including schools and groups of schools).

Awards will be available at Pass, Merit and Distinction as per our Academic Regulations.
Assessment Balance and Scheduled Learning and Teaching Activities

The assessment balance and overall workload associated with this course are calculated from core modules and typical option module choices undertaken by students on the course. They have been reviewed and confirmed as representative by the Course Director but applicants should note that the specific option choices students make may influence both assessment and workload balance.

A standard module equates to 200 notional learning hours, which may be comprised of teaching, learning and assessment, any embedded placement activities and independent study. Modules may have more than one component of assessment.

On this course students will be assessed by coursework.

Learning Support

If you have a question or a problem relating to your course, your Course Administrator at Educate Teacher Training and/or at Leeds Beckett University are there to help you. Course Administrators work closely with academic staff and can make referrals to teaching staff or to specialist professional services as appropriate. They can give you a confirmation of attendance letter, and a transcript. You may also like to contact your Course Rep or the Students’ Union Advice team for additional support with course-related questions.

You can also contact the team at Educate Teacher Training. Full details are given in the course and module handbooks.

If you have any questions about life at our University in general, call into or contact the Student Advice Hub on either campus to speak to our Student Experience Team. This team, consisting of recent graduates and permanent staff, are available to support you throughout your time here. They will make sure you have access to and are aware of the support, specialist services, and opportunities our University provides. There is a Student Advice Hub on the ground floor of the Rose Bowl at City Campus and one in Campus Central at Headingley. You can also find the team in the Gateway in the Leslie Silver Building at City Campus. Email enquiries may be directed to studentadvicehub@leedsbeckett.ac.uk.

Within MyBeckett you will see two tabs (Support and Opportunities) where you can find online information and resources for yourselves. The Support tab gives you access to details of services available to give you academic and personal support. These include Library Services, the Students’ Union, Money advice, Disability advice and support, Wellbeing, International Student Services and Accommodation. There is also an A-Z of Support Services, and access to online appointments/registration.
The Opportunities tab is the place to explore the options you have for jobs, work placements, volunteering, and a wide range of other opportunities. For example, you can find out here how to get help with your CV, prepare for an interview, get a part-time job or voluntary role, take part in an international project, or join societies closer to home.

The course leader at Educate Teacher Training works with the module leaders and student representatives to respond proactively to student needs, and the course leader at Leeds Beckett University supports students and the course team at Educate Teacher Training.
